

Establish Colonies / Expel Colonists

Hans recalled his first time in the new world. He'd joined some fancy Duke to found a colony on promises of glory for Sigmar and unimaginable riches. What he got was much the same as what he left behind: tend the crops, reinforce the defences, clean the latrines, unload the boats... Those things and running for his life from lizards twice the size of a man.

- The campaign starts with the colonists having already founded a coastal settlement.
- The Establish Colonies player's goals are to maintain the coastal settlement and found an inland settlement.
- The Expel Colonists player's goals are to destroy the coastal settlement and prevent the foundation of an inland settlement.
- Colony Status measures the growth and stability of the coastal settlement. It starts at 0 and can go up to 3 (thriving) or down to -3 (collapsing).
- Minor Events move the Colony Status towards success or collapse.
- If an inland settlement exists, the Expel Colonists player can only use the Destroy Colony event.
- If the coastal settlement is destroyed, the Establish Colonies player can only use the New Coastal Settlement event.

Logistical Advantages

- If Colony Status is above/below 0, the player with Establish Colonies/Expel Colonists as their Public Goal gets the first chance to play events. They may choose one other player to play immediately after them.

Narrative battles

- Found inland colony: With the initial colonies thriving, the colonists grow bold and attempt to found a settlement in the interior.
- Destroy coastal settlement: The colonies are in disarray and retreat. Players can take this opportunity to expel the colonists from Lustria.
- Destroy inland settlement: The colonists have successfully encroached on the inland but defending such a position is difficult. The Expel Colonists player can attempt to retake their territory.

Major events

- Trigger a Narrative Battle: This can only be done if the Colony Status is at 3 or -3.
- New Coastal Settlement: If the coastal settlement has been destroyed, an Establish Colonies player can found a new colony.

Minor events

- Stabilize Colony: Increase the Colony Status by 1.
- Destabilize Colony: Decrease the Colony Status by 1.
