

Perform/Prevent Rituals

An acrid smell filled the meadow as the acolytes lit the braziers. The priest inhaled deeply and chanted in the old tongue. He felt the arcane energy burning in his veins as flames of every color erupted at his feet. His mouth opened, and an otherworldly voice asked "Who dares summon Etaxi, Prince of Tzeentch?"

- The ritual can be attempted once per campaign in the Attempt Ritual battle. This Narrative battle can be triggered for free on any turn.
- This goal's Minor Events add or subtract preparations for the ritual.
- The first five preparations make the ritual easier to complete. Additional preparations have no effect.
- There can never be less than zero preparations.

Narrative battles

- Attempt Ritual: The Perform Ritual player attempts to summon otherworldly spirits to the mortal plain. A Prevent Rituals player must defend, if able.
 - If no Prevent Ritual player can defend (because they are already engaged in other Narrative Battles), another player must defend and the preparations count goes up by two.

Minor events

- Prepare: add a preparation for the ritual.
- Disrupt: remove a preparation for the ritual.